Riches from the Ministry

In our Christian journey we must guard against doctrines. When we speak of doctrines, we are referring to the truths in the Bible becoming dead letter and losing the Spirit and life. Through His seekers throughout the ages, God has gradually unlocked the truths in the Bible, thereby giving His children new light. For example, Martin Luther and others saw the truth of justification by faith during the Reformation. Since then a considerable number of believers have seen more truths, such as sanctification by faith, living by faith, the meaning of baptism, the practice of the church, consecration, the indwelling of Christ, and co-crucifixion. God has given these truths to His church. The danger, however, is that we may receive these truths as doctrines. Then they lose the power of the Spirit and become dead letter, dead knowledge.

We humbly acknowledge that over the years God has given us new light that needs to be released to all of God's children. But there is a danger that the light we have received will gradually become doctrine, dead letter, and empty knowledge; that is, it will lose the divine life and the power of the Spirit.

God has given us much light in our trainings. We hope that every trainee will continue to review the lessons in order to receive the benefit. Nonetheless, there is still a danger that dead knowledge and doctrines will be produced.

The benefit of the trainings is not so much that we receive revelation but that we receive wisdom. Ephesians 1:17 mentions "a spirit of wisdom and revelation." We first receive wisdom and then revelation. Wisdom prepares us to receive revelation. The trainings merely prepare us with wisdom. There is still a need for us to obtain revelation. It is easy to regard the material and the light we received in the trainings as complete. This prevents us from receiving revelation. No one can help us with respect to revelation. In order to receive revelation, we must live in spirit, let God touch us, be willing to pay the price, accept His breaking, and learn spiritual lessons. This does not mean that we need to memorize the training lessons in order to receive spiritual revelation. Spiritual revelation cannot be found in the training lessons. Spiritual revelation depends on our meeting God, being touched by Him, being broken, paying the price, learning the lessons, and spending time in His presence. If we are such persons, we will receive revelation. Hence, revelation does not depend entirely on the trainings.
